The Assurance of New World Humanism.

- A new era of humanity will dawn, free from all discrimination based on working time, social status, race, gender, nationality, or skin colour. True equality and fraternity will flourish across all nations.
- Just as natural biological processes like birth, breath, and growth occur unhindered, the production and consumption of P&S, along with the ongoing process of ATWT on ED, will become seamless and fulfilling.
- New-borns will be liberated from the burdens of early-age educational training, allowing them to develop naturally and at their own pace. They will have the freedom to explore their potential, live in harmony with nature and others, and grow into valuable contributors to their nations and the world.
- As long as life endures on Earth, humanity will thrive, sustained by the continuous working time invested by younger, working-age generations.
- Nation-building projects, once hindered by financial constraints, will become achievable, transforming the impossible into reality.
- A vast array of P&S will be produced and consumed sustainably, avoiding resource depletion and unnecessary human exhaustion.
- The end of systemic control over women will foster true individual freedom, nurturing natural motherhood and rendering sexual exploitation obsolete.
- When information resources and P&S are no longer owned by individuals and become accessible to all, prisons, police, and punitive systems will disappear.
- Governments will serve their citizens effectively, ensuring lasting trust and cooperation without fear of riots or unrest.
- The media will fulfil its duties impartially, free from bias, condemnation, ridicule, or intimidation, serving as a pillar of truth and transparency.
- The various perceptions of divinity, which originated from a flawed formula for survival, will evolve, shifting toward a deeper understanding of Time. Gratitude, devotion, and worship for life will centre on the profound reality of Time itself, recognizing its role as the foundation of all experiences.
- Individuals will experience indescribable joy and uncover deeper truths about human relationships, aspects of life yet to be fully understood.
- The vision of "One World, One Family" will become a tangible reality.
- The current unsustainable survival system will be consigned to history, just as other archaic, flawed, and unjust systems have been discarded by a consciously progressing humanity.
